

Tamil Nadu Governor R M Ravi speaks at EDII

Lead the change, make India great: TN Governor

EDII confers diplomas to 52 students and 2 mgmt fellows at its 22nd convocation; Sunil Shukla, Rakesh Sharma also present

At the 22nd Convocation held on Friday, the Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India (EDII), Ahmedabad, conferred post-graduate diplomas upon 52 students and two management fellows. The Chief Guest, Governor of Tamil Nadu R N Ravi, encouraged the graduates in his speech. Director Sunil Shukla and others shared the dais with him.

In his address, the Chief Guest emphasised on the abundance of opportunities in the country's ongoing revolutionary transformation. He urged the graduates to explore their destinies and reach new heights. India, he noted, is actively fostering an ecosystem that encourages its youth to tap into their energies and potential.

He pointed out that India now boasts of the fastest-growing economy globally, with over a lakh startups, all thanks to the enterprising spirit of the youth. The Chief Guest expressed confidence that this creative power of the youth would lead India to become the foremost economy in the world. He encouraged the graduates to become part of India's unique journey towards sustainable development and take the lead in driving change.

Rakesh Sharma, President of EDII and Managing Director & CEO of IDBI Bank Limited, delivered the presidential address. He praised the institute's alumni for setting up successful enterprises, some of which have become listed entities. AM
