

EDII, with NCW, conclude their 99th EAP programme

The city-based Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India (EDII), in collaboration with the National Commission for Women (NCW) has undertaken a pan-India project of organising 100 Entrepreneurship Awareness Programmes (EAPs) for potential female entrepreneurs across the country and the 99th programme was recently conducted at the National Institute of Electronics & Information Technology (NIELIT), Kargil. The aim of these programmes is to educate women about the benefits of adopting entrepreneurship as a career.
