Wear Handlooms With Pride

Exquisite art form and the skills inherent among the weavers be it in the form of Varanasi, Sambalpuri, Chanderi, Ikat, Jhamdhani, Tangil, Gaadi Dhadi, Kuppadam sarees from Varanasi, Bargarh, Chanderi, Burdwan, Gadag respectively or the swanky stoles, scarves or shawls from Barabanki, superb home furnishing items from Bijnore, Dornier carpets from Gwalior and marvelous mufflers, scarves and shawls from Kullu all have a dispersed production base.

In order to improve upon the production-marketing chain the office of Development Commissioner – Handlooms, Ministry of Textiles, Government of India, New Delhi has embarked upon an innovative project known as 'Integrated Handloom Cluster Development Scheme' at 20 select locations spread over 12 states of country. Wherein, Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India – EDI, Ahmedabad has been appointed as National Resource Agency.

The sample products displayed at the stall signify an intensive quality conscious input and also designers' collection from National Institute of Design [NID] and National Institute of Fashion Technology [NIFT]. The project with a topsy-turvy ride of the past 4 years has now culminated into formation of local level Institutions such as consortium, Producers Company and Private Limited Companies.

To add to the flavor weavers from all parts of the country are currently displaying their creations at Gujarat University Ground, Near GMDC Building, Navrangpura, Ahmedabad from 12th to 23rd January, 2011. We would be happy to welcome you to the above said venue during the period wherein you may explore an opportunity to interact with weavers and the representatives from consortium.

The yarn base includes cotton, silk (eri, muga, tassar, mulberry) and other natural blends. The genuine products tagged with Handloom Mark indicate a true hand-made stuff. Products showcased comprises of handloom and silk sarees, garments, shawls, stoles, scarves, ready-mades, home furnishings items, including bed-sheets and covers, fabrics, carpets, rugs and mats, kitchen linen, hand towels and napkins etc.
