

Big Leaguers from Videshi Startups to do Mentoring

'Start Up India' to see biggest gathering of Valley giants & govt officials

Ruchika.Chitravanshi
@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: Uber Technologies founder Travis Kalanick, SoftBank founder Masayoshi Son along with other prominent names from the world of startups and investing will descend on Delhi later this month in what is billed as the biggest congregation of Silicon Valley bigwigs in India. They are arriving to participate in Start Up India, one of the biggest and signature initiatives of the government this year that is being held on January 16 in Delhi.

A Mega Startup Splash

PM Modi to launch Start Up India initiative on January 16

Startup action plan likely to be announced at event

Plan may entail easy rules and tax benefits

40 global CEOs & founders of over 1,500 Indian startups to attend event

INTERACTIVE TALKS BY

Masayoshi Son
Founder, SoftBank

Travis Kalanick
Founder, Uber

Adam Nuemann
Founder, WeWork

HOOK-UP IDEAS WITH INVESTORS

Google to host 'Launchpad Accelerator'

It will facilitate live pitches by early stage startups